Evidence Quote or paraphrase	Line #	Elaboration / explanation of how this evidence supports ideas or argument
“Every man got a treasure. You don’t know that, you must be a fool.”
“All I know is that I heard him talking about some kind of treasure. You know they found that shopping bag lady with that load of money in her bags.”
“Throw down your money, old man, so I won’t have to bash your head in!”
“They were talking about treasures,” Greg said. “You really have a treasure?”
“Didn’t I tell you every man got a treasure?”
“I didn’t have nothing to give him except these things that told him who I was and what he come from.”
“They sent back what he had with him over there, and what it was is this old mouth fiddle and these clippings. Him carrying it around with him like that told me it meant something to him. That was my treasure, and when I give it to him, he treated it just like that, a treasure.”
“What else a man got ‘cepting what he can pass on to his son, or daughter.”
“His father had been a postal worker for all Greg’s life and was proud of it, often telling Greg how hard he worked to pass the test.”
“He thought of the lecture his father would give him, and smiled.”
“And you take care of that treasure of yours.”
